PUBLIC AUCTION.

To be sold, at public auction, at Northumberland court house, in the county of Northumberland, and state of Virginia, on TUESDAY, the fifth day of September next, at eleven o'clock, in the forenoon,
Five contiguous Plantations,
Amounting together to about 2700 Acres,

SITUATE on the river Potomac, and within about three miles of the court-house. These estates formerly belonged to Presley Thornton, Esq. and are the same on which he lived. They have never been seen by either of the subscribers; but it is understood, that about 1700 acres of them are as valuable low grounds as any on the river, and a considerable part thereof heavily timbered. The uplands consist of about 1000 acres, and the whole is well calculated for the production of corn, wheat, tobacco, timothy, and small grain of all kinds, in great abundance. The waters are said to abound with excellent fish, oysters, and wild fowl. The water carriage is easy and convenient to Norfolk, Baltimore, Alexandria, and the city of Washington; and as these estates possess several good mill seats, with an abundance of water, and a plentiful supply of timber, they must be very valuable.

The premises will be shewn to persons inclining to purchase, by Col. James Moore, who lives on them, or by Samuel Blackwell, Esq. who lives near to them; and the terms of payment may be known a sufficient time before the sale, by applying to either of them, or to the subscriber in the city of Philadelphia.

BY THE LAST MAIL.

NEW-YORK, June 9.

Very Late and Important Foreign News.

The fine fast sailing ship Pacific, captain Stanton, arrived at this port yesterday in 31 days from Falmouth, with dispatches for government, of which lt. Reed, of the U. S. navy, is the bearer, who proceeded immediately for the city of Washington. During the 26 days the Pacific remained in England, no intelligence had been received from France of the arrival of the Mentor.

Capt. S. has favoured the editor of the Mercantile Advertiser with a regular file of London papers and Lloyds Lists to the 5th of May, twenty days later than any advices previously received from England. From these papers the following articles, some of them of a very interesting nature, are copied :—

LONDON, April 24.

The Dutch papers contain an account of the treaty of peace between this country and Turkey. It is said to consist of twelve articles, of which the following is the substance :

"The property which either may have in its possession belonging to the other, and all ships of private individuals under embargo, shall be immediately restored.

"From the moment of signing this treaty, all hostilities shall cease, and the prisoners of war on both sides shall be restored within 31 days succeeding, without any ransom.

"Mutual accommodations, in regard to commerce, to be afforded in its fullest extent—the tariff at Constantinople to remain as it is.

The 11th article says that "as it has been at all times forbidden to ships of war to enter the canal of Constantinople, viz. the strait of the Dardanelles, or that of the Black Sea and as that ancient rule of the Ottoman Empire must be henceforward observed in time of peace by all powers whatsoever, the British Court promise to conform to this principle."

April 25.

It was yesterday reported that the Danish government had consented to open the port of Toningen but we believe that it has merely granted permission to the neutral vessels in the port to sail in ballast.

The accounts which we have received from Portugal are rather of a contradictory nature, but still we are convinced that the intelligence brought by the Loire respecting the distressed situation of Soult's army is well founded, and that unless he receives very powerful assistance from the south, he will be under the necessity of surrendering. The accounts from Gallicia fully confirm those which we some days ago laid before our readers. The French are entirely confined to the fortresses of Ferrol, Corunna and St. Jago, and it is said, but we do not vouch for the fact, that letters from the French general Ney to Joseph Bonaparte have been intercepted in which he represents his situation as extremely desperate, and earnestly presses for reinforcements.

It was reported yesterday afternoon that government had received an account from Heligoland, of an action having taken place in Bavaria, between the Austrians and French, in which the former were successful. It is more than probable that some skirmishes have taken place in Bavaria, but no intelligence of that kind has yet reached government.

The only important fact in the accounts yesterday received from Heligoland is that a very considerable Austrian force had entered Saxony.

May 1.

The intelligence from the north of Spain continues to be of a very favorable nature. The marquis de Romana, with the regular troops under his command, and a large body of armed peasants, has completely cut off all communication between general Ney at Corunna, and Soult who still remains at Oporto, although reports have been circulated of his having advanced towards Coimbra.

We entertain strong hopes that the marquis de Romana will soon be strong enough to attack Ferrol and Corunna.

Marquis Wellesley is appointed ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to Spain.

It appears by the last monthly return, that the number of vessels now in commission is —of the line, 160 ; fifties, 25 ; frigates 175 ; sloops, &c. 166 ; bombs and fire ships, 19 ; brigs, 171 ; cutters, 37 ; schooners, luggers &c. 91—Total, 844.

The Paris papers recently received contain a pretended letter from the editor of the Vienna Gazette to the editor of the Ulm Gazette, but which was not inserted by the latter, containing a variety of statements with respect to the preparations of Austria, which are treated with an air of ridicule in the comments made upon the letter in the minor Paris papers and copied into the Moniteur, in which the Austrians are told, that if they are mad enough to commence hostilities, such hostilities will be the last they will provoke.

Bonaparte, before he set off to join the army, issued a decree, containing the three following provisions :—1. All Frenchmen, who have carried arms against France since Sept. 1, 1804, are declared to have incurred the punishement of death; 2. Frenchmen, in the sevice of any foreign power, are to quit such service the instant hostilities arise between that power and France ; 3. All Frenchmen recalled by this or former decrees, and continuing refractory and disobedient, are declared to have suffered civil death, and their estates and effects are to be confiscated.

Great preparations are making at Flushing for the reception of the king of Holland, where he was expected to arrive on Saturday. A general illumination was ordered. The object of his journey was to visit the fleet, which is considerable, and completely prepared for sea. It is the opinion of competent persons, that this squadron might be easily destroyed by an expedition of 5000 men and a few ships of war. Flushing was one of the ports included in the embargo.

Bonaparte, before he set out for Strasburgh, summoned the Senate to hold an extraordinary sitting on the 17th inst. This was supposed to be for the purpose of laying before them the whole of the late correspondence between him and the emperor of Austria. These important documents were expected to appear in the Moniteur of the 19th.

Sun Office, half past 2 o'clock, P. M.

We stop the press to state, that we have just received an account from Dover, which states, that there was a heavy firing on the French coast on Friday night and Saturday morning. Some of our cruizers who were on the opposite coast observed a general illumination, and some neutral vessels that have arrived report that the firing and illumination were in consequence of a victory obtained by the French over the Austrians.

The governor of Calais would not suffer the flag of truce that sailed from Dover last week to enter that port, nor would he permit the dispatches to be landed.

The departure of a messenger from Dover to Calais on Friday morning in a flag of truce has given rise to a variety of speculations. He was certainly charged with the new order in council, and dispatches from Mr. Pinckney to gen. Armstrong, the American minister at Paris.

May 2.

Two vessels arrived at Yarmouth yesterday morning from Holland, the captains of which state, that Bonaparte was endeavoring to enforce the conscription in Holland, and in that in many places the people had manifested a disposition to resist it by force.

We last night received Dutch and Hamburg papers, the former to the 26th and the latter to the 23d ult. They do not contain any account of a battle.

We feel great pleasure in stating that every fresh account from the north of Spain confirms the hopes we entertain respecting the ultimate success of the Spaniards. The Fisguard, which is just arrived from the north of Spain, brings intelligence of the complete failure of an attempt made by the French for the recovery of Vigo. They had collected a force of about 4000 men, with the intention of attacking that important place, but they were repulsed with very considerable loss.

May 3.

Dutch papers to the 27th ult. were received yesterday, which, however, contain only movements of the French and Austrian troops. The former appear to be falling back, but whether in consequence of finding the Austrian force superior, or in the hope of drawing the Archduke into a disadvantageous position, cannot be determined from the scanty information which these papers afford. Davoust has addressed a proclamation to his troops, in which he holds out the expectation of their being supported by a Russian force. We are sorry to observe this corroboration of the declaration said to have been made by the Russian minister at Vienna. The letters from Holland state, that great discontents prevail in every part of that country, in consequence of the government having resolved to enforce a conscription on the French model with the greatest severity.

It is rumored in private letters that it was apprehended at Gottenburg that sir Samuel Hood intended to send back the convoy which lately arrived off the coast of Sweden from this country. Since the revolution the war taxes which the king had imposed by his own authority, have been abolished, and this and other measures of a similar description have rendered the new government very popular.

A letter has been received from Charante giving a dreadful description of the battle in Basque Roads. The mouth of the river Charante is entirely choaked with wrecks of the French ships. The enemy have lost about 8,000 killed, besides a great many wounded.

Bonaparte has left Strasburg ; he passed through Durlach on the 15th, and was expected at Stutgard the same night ; from whence he was expected to proceed to Munich.

May 4.

By a signal arrived from the Dutch coast yesterday, letters of last Wednesday's date have been received. They state, that hostilities had actually commenced between Austria and France, and that a battle had been fought near Munich, in which the French were defeated. We have no authority for the statement but the letters in question. The impression in the city was, however, so great, that wagers to a considerable amount were made on Change that the accounts were correct.

It is ascertained that the most scrupulous vigilance is exercised by the officers on the Dutch coast, to prevent the captains of vessels from taking on board either letters or newspapers, unless first inspected by them.

The private letters by the Gottenburgh mail of yesterday furnish some particulars not altogether destitute of interest. Licences continue to be granted at Stockholm to British, as well as other vessels, which are to last till the 30th of Sept. Sir Samuel Hood persists in not suffering an armed vessel to enter the ports of Sweden. On the 19th ult. a fleet under convoy sailed from Scarlscrona. Mr. Merry had given notice to Mr. Smith, the consul, that in the event of a war between Great Britain and Sweden, the property of the merchants would be reciprocally respected by the two governments.

May 5.

Price of Stocks—Consols 67 1-2.

We are unable to lay before our readers any authentic information respecting the reported battle between the Austrians and French in Bavaria. The captain of a French privateer recently taken and brought into port states that a desperate battle has taken place, in which, after three days hard fighting, the Austrians were defeated with the loss of 30,000 men.

From the London Gazette, April 29.

At the Court at the Queen's Palace, the 26th of April, 1809. Present,

The king's most excellent majesty in council.

Whereas his majesty, by his order in council of the 11th November, 1807, was pleased for the reasons assigned therein, to order, that "all the ports and places of France and her allies, or of any other country at war with his majesty, and all other ports or places in Europe from which, although not at war with his majesty, the British flag is excluded, and all ports or places in the colonies belonging to his majesties enemies should from henceforth be subject to the same restrictions in point of trade and navigation, as if the same were actually blockaded in the most strict and rigorous manner;" and also to prohibit 'all trade in articles which are the produce or manufacture of the said countries or colonies.'

And whereas his majesty having been nevertheless desirous not to subject those countries which were in alliance or in amity with his majesty, to any greater inconvenience than was absolutely inseperable for carrying into effect his majesty's just determination to counteract the designs of his enemies did make certain exceptions and modifications expressed in the said order of the 11th of November, and in certain subsequent orders of the 25th of November, and of the 18th December, 1807, and of the 30th of March 1808, declaratory of the aforesaid order of the 11th of November.

And whereas, in consequence of divers events which have taken place since the date of the first mentioned order, affecting the relation between Great Britain and the territories of other powers, it is expedient that sundry parts and provisions of the said order shall be altered or revoked.

His majesty is therefore pleased, by and with the advice of his privy council, to revoke and annul the said several orders, except as hereinafter expressed, and so much of the said several orders, except as aforesaid, is hereby revoked accordingly.

And his majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of his Privy Council, to order and it is hereby ordered, that all the ports and places as far north as the river Ems, inclusively, under the government styling itself the kingdom of Holland, and all ports and places under the government of France together with the colonies, plantations, and lements in the possession of those governments respectively, and all ports and places in the northern parts of Italy, to be reckoned from the ports of Orbitello and Telaro, inclusively, shall continue and be subject to the same restrictions in point of trade and navigation without any exceptions, as if the same were actually blockaded by his majesty's naval forces in the most strict and rigorous manner; and that every vessel trading from and to the said countries or colonies, plantations and settlements, together with all goods and merchandize on board shall be condemned as a prize to the captors.

And his majesty is further pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that this Order shall have effect from the day of the date thereof, with respect to any ship together with its cargo, which may be captured subsequent to such day, on any voyage which is and shall be rendered legal by this Order, although such voyage at the time of the commencement of the same was unlawful and prohibited under the same former order, and such ships upon being brought in shall be released accordingly; and with respect to all ships, together with their cargoes, which may be captured in any voyage which was permitted under the exceptions of the Orders aboovementioned, but which is not permitted according to the provisions of this order; his Majesty is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that such ships and their cargoes shall not be liable to condemnation, unless they shall have received actual notice of the present Order before such capture, or in default of such notice, until after the expiration of the like intervals from the date of this order, as were allowed for constructive notice in the orders of the 25th of November 1807, and the 18th of May 1808, at the several places and latitudes therein specified.

And the right honorable the lords commissioners of his majesty's treasury, his majesty's principal secretaries of state, the lords commissioners of the admiralty, & the judge of the high court of admiralty, and judges of the courts of vice admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them, respectively may appertain.

From the Lisbon Gazette of April 4.

Letter of the brigadier Francisco de Silveyra, to his excellency Don Miguel Pereyra Forjaz.

"It is not yet in my power to transmit to your excellency all the particulars of what we found in the fort of St. Francisco de Chaves, which surrendered yesterday as I informed your excellency in my letter of that date, the town having been taken by an assault on the 20th of this month—I can only assure your excellency, that the magazines of the town are better filled than they were when we lost it; and that in the first assault we took upwards of 200 prisoners and killed more than 300; that during the siege of the fort, we killed more than 100; that we have taken prisoners the commandant, 1 lieut. col. of engineers, six captains, 5 lieutenants, 1 ensign, 10 surgeons, 4 apothecaries, 3 civil officers, and 749 soldiers; we have also taken 12 cannon, an immensity of arms, and 114 Spanish prisoners—With the exception of the sick, who are still in the hospital of this place, I have marched them all to Ville Real, and set at liberty the Spanish prisoners, excepting those whose wounds oblige them to remain here.

I transmit to your excellency the articles which I granted, which I was of opinion I ought to do, for if the fort had been taken by assault all the arms and ammunition, of which we have so much need, would have been plundered and put out of the way—We also found 80 horses with which I intend to mount as many soldiers.

My plan is to harrass the rear.

GRENADA, April 2.

His excellency Don Francisco Palafox y Melci, general representative of the supreme central junta, in the kingdom of Arragon, and his excellency the marquis de Lazan, captain general pro tempore of the same, desirous to manifest to the public the infamous artifices resorted to by the French generals in order to conquer the kingdom, have directed to be printed the order for the delivery of the town of Mequinenza, which their brother, the captain general of Arragon, was compelled by violence to sign, and the noble reply of the governor, who is resolved to defend that place to the last, agreeably to the orders which he has received.

A COPY.—"The city has surrendered.——Spain is in possession of the French troops. There is now no hope of succour, for which reason you are to surrender immediately the place which you command to marshal Lannes, Duke of Montebello, and to send instantly an officer to him at this city.

Head quarters at Saragossa, March 4, 1809.

To the Governor of Mequinenza.

PALAFOX.

A true copy,

LUIS DE VEYAN.

Reply directed to the Marshal.

Your excellency's flag of truce delivered to me the order of his excellency Don Josef Palafox, by which he directs me to deliver immediately this place to the French troops. Your excellency is not ignorant that every commander of a fortified place takes a seperate oath to defend it; that as soon as a general becomes a prisoner, all his anthority ceases, and that consequently it is not possible for me to obey the said order.

LUIS DE VEYANI.

To his excellency marshal Mortier.

TORTOSA, April 1.

The French, according to appearances, intend to quit Barcelona, and their van is marching towards Moncado, on the road to Gerona and Vich; according to the accounts of several persons from Barcelona they are taking away the cannon from Monjuich, and are destroying every thing that they can in order to escape. Our troops have left Tarragona in order to occupy Villa Franca.

In this place is the division of the marquis de Lazan, commanded by gen. Blake; through this part of Arragon, the French are marching towards Saragossa—God grant that it may be never to return.

BOSTON, June 5.

Latest from Lisbon.

Yesterday arrived the brig Julian, Capt. Williams, 40 days from Lisbon. The French had not made any movements towards Lisbon. Sir David Baird just arrived with 7000 troops from England, which encreased the British forces in that station to 25,000—the Portuguese army was 30,000 strong, well equipped & in high spirits. The combined armies had got possession of all the heights and passes for 25 miles round, completely fortified, and were determined to make a stand against the French, if they approached.

Captain W. confirms the report of the capture of Vigo by the English. Also, the capture of Oporto by the French. After the surrender of Oporto it was given up to the troops for plunder during three days—wherein the most horrid excesses were committed.

The accounts from Spain were contradictory; and but little reliance placed upon them.

Extract of a letter from Lisbon, dated April 20, 1809.

"Our political situation seems to be strengthening daily, as reinforcements are arriving daily, and no means spared to defend the place; the enemy seems shy of making advances, which is descriptive of weakness in numbers on his part. The rise or fall in value of produce from your country materially depends upon the turn of army affairs."

Another extract of the same date.

"Trade promises assuming a great degree of activity in this port if the French are kept out of this country, which we have now great hopes of, as we have had important reinforcements from England."

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.

Extract of a letter from Messrs. Hughes and Duncan, dated Liverpool April 15.

"Expresses have this day reached here with accounts of the arrival of the ship Pacific, with dispatches, &c. At present it is impossible to make sales; and prices are wholly nominal."

Another letter—same date.

"We have now to advise you that expresses have this day been received here, with accounts of the arrival of the Pacific, from New York, with dispatches at Falmouth, and of the Sally, off Dartmouth from Charleston, which she left on the 19th ult. The intelligence brought by them of the partial repeal of the embargo, and of the passing of the non-intercourse against G. Britain and France, has put an end to the uncertainty which had for some days prevailed here on these points. The holders of American produce had begun to draw conclusions favorable to their interests from the circumstance that no vessels had arrived in this country from the U. States in so long a period after the termination of congress; and prices have of late been gradually advancing. The effects on our market produced by this information, shall be communicated from time to time."

BALTIMORE, June 9.

Arrived brig Erminia, Kirk, 19 days from St. Barts. Left there 21st May, brigs Three Brothers, and Eliza Vickery, from Baltimore, just arrived; schrs. John, Felicity, Enterprize and Courier of do. and a number of others. Sailed in company with schr. Chance for New Haven. Off Hatteras spoke ship U. S. of Wiscasset bound to Charleston. The schr. Racer, Brown, hence to Porto Cavello, in running down the Maine, struck on a cluster of rocks in the night, and was lost, the crew got on a small uninhabited island, where there was no water and were obliged to proceed to Curracoa, where the supercargo remained to get assistance and see what could be saved from the wreck.

Doctor I. J. Comyn,

A professional DENTIST—of Baltimore,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints the LADIES and GENTLEMEN of Alexandria, that he intends to practice in this place for a few days, in all the various branches of his profession. No genteel person of either sex, can give or receive pleasure or comfort, by teeth coated with tart or decayed gums, or fœted breath, His method of cleaning th teeth will be found both easy and efficacious, as hundreds can attest in Baltimore and elsewhere. Without giving pain, or hurting the enamel, he removes the tartar, &c. when the teeth will assume a beautiful appearance the gums adhering to the teeth; but if the state of the gums require it, doctor C. will give to the person an antiscorbutic lotion of chemical preparation, which gained the applause of hundreds both in Europe and America.—It is pleasant, innocent, and effectual, in smoothing and whitening the teeth and curing the gums, rendering them red and firm, preventing the decay of the teeth and sweetening the breath. Doct. C. fits artificial teeth from one to an entire set, with such nicety, to answer the useful purposes of nature, and of so natural an appearance that it is impossible to distinguish them from real ones. Dr. C. flatters himself from his being regularly bred to the practice of physick, as well as to the Dentist Business, and his long experience on the continent of Europe(France and Spain) to give to all those who favour him with their commands, every possible satisfaction.

USEFUL PROPERTIES OF
Patent Washing Machine.

THIS highly useful Machine is found by experience to excel any hitherto in use. It will wash as many cloaths (by the assistance of one person) in an hour as can be washed in a whole day, without the possibility of injuring, fretting or tearing the most delicate article, and with less than half the quantity of soap. It occupies very little more space than the common wash-tub, and with the least care will not create any slop or wet—the construction is very simple and attended with little expence. A further description of its qualities is now deemed unnecessary, as it is presumed none will purchase without examining it.

We the subscribers do hereby certify that we have found, on trial, the above named Machine to answer fully the above description. Given under our hands this 5th day of May, A. D. 1809.

The following highly valuable MEDICINES

DR. JEBB'S
NATURE'S RESTORATIVE,
A BALSAMIC CORDIAL.

THIS cordial, so justly celebrated throughout Great Britain and the continent of Europe, for its superior efficacy in the cure of all disorders excited by nervous irritability, as well as in complaints of complete debility, whether arising from irregularities of live long continued residence in warm climates intemperate pursuits of excessive pleasure or that destructive habit of inconsiderate youth which brings on so prematurely the infirmities of old age.

In removing pulmonary affections, asthma and all disorders of the lungs, it is the most powerful remedy ever yet found, and the relief it has afforded even in the last stage of consumptions, is without a parallel; with regard to its efficacy in this baneful, and unfortunately the prevailing disorder in this country (consumption) its superiority is such as to have copplanted every other medicine.

Those who in advanced life feel the consequences of youthful excess, will find themselves restored to health and strength, and all those melancholy symptoms removed, which are the general effects of such causes.

In short, animated by the uniform success this invaluable cordial has experienced in Europe, the thousands it has renovated, who bending under the pressure of nervous, consumptive or hypochondriacal disorders (many attested proofs of which from eminently distinguished persons in this quarter of the globe, are now in the possession of the proprietor here, some few of which are herein published) have determined the introduction of it into this continent, where its efficacies must soon become so prized as to make it considered a beneficent remedy not to be dispensed with bly those who are anxious to preserve or acquire their health.

The chief ingredient of this cordial is a plant whose rare and precious salutary virtues were well known to the Arabians during the 8th and 9th centuries, when that people shone conspicuous over all the nations of the world for their learning and skill in eradicating baneful diseases incident to the human frame, renovating infirmity to vigor, and restoring the sickly to sound and rosy health, and which, as known at this time by their descendants, and used and experienced as the most sovereign remedy for decayed constitutions, and every species of nervous disorders. This celebrated restorative plant has also been highly estimated for ages past, amongst the most enlightened nations of Greece, and considered by those wise inhabitants as one of the first of their blessings.

This cordial is also rich and fine in flavor, most grateful to the palate, and the most enlivening to the spirits of any yet offered to the public.

ALSO,

Dr. Tiffot's celebrated Gout and Rheumatic Drops.

(Price, Two Dollars per bottle.)

NOTHING is of more importance than the preservation of health—this common laced remark however is TOO OFTEN FORGOTTEN whilst we are active and strong—and prevention of pain, which is superior to its cure, is not sufficiently attended to by any description of persons. Among those disorders which require the most early and unremitting efforts to eradicate and overcome, none have a stronger claim upon our notice than the Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Weakness of the Joints, Sprains, Gleets, the Stone and Gravel, the Cramp and every species of Rheumatic Pains from whatever cause they may have originated—and hence every relief which can be administered is too valuable to be forgotten.—Those persons whose avocations peculiarly expose them to colds, &c. cannot be too anxious always to possess immediate aid. Sea-faring persons, travellers, &c. ought constantly to carry with them that medicine which will counteract the unpleasans effects of their perilous duties, and especially those pains to which their situation must expose them. To those who reside in or visit the West-Indies, other warm climates, they will be found of trial to convey the most lasting service will gradually destroy all tendency to dis in the human frame, and preserve healt vigor. Although a great variety of preparations have been published to cure the ders enumerated above, none has yet e the GOUT AND RHEUMATIC DR DR. TISSOT, which are celebrated thro out the European continent, and whose u bounded benefits are fully authenticated b certificates already published of gentlemen s well known in America, being of the first co sequence in the state of Maryland: Gene Charles Ridgely, of Hampton; John Gi Esq. one of the directors of the Farmers' of Maryland; John Macubbin, Esq. cubbin, his wife; and Mrs. Ryan,

Ample certificates and affidavits of neficial effects of these medicines may by applying as above.
